PREFACE

This catalog contains synopses of pertinent courses given by or arranged through headquarters. Courses are listed according to the following: "B" (Basic Training), "I" (Intelligence Training), "L" (Language and Area Training - Internal), "E" (External Training), "O" (Operations Training), and "T" (Technical Training).

25X1A

Operations courses and Technical training are restricted to [] personnel and to some personnel of the support offices; courses in the other schools are open to employees of all components of the organization. For specific courses in communications the reader should consult the Communications Course Catalog.

25X1 In addition to courses given at the facilities of the organization, there are courses at [] schools and other professional courses available to personnel of the organization. These courses are listed under External Training and arrangements for attendance should be made through headquarters.

A table of contents and administrative instructions are included in the foreword. Each course-listing in Basic, Intelligence, Operations, and Technical training includes: course titles, brief statement of course objective(s), prerequisites in terms of prior training or equivalent experience, limitations on enrollment, security clearance, duration, location, and, with the exception of certain clerical courses, a description of the course content and methods of instruction. Only summarization of Language and Area Training and External Training are included.

Training requirements not fulfilled by the courses listed in this catalog can be met through the establishment of new or special courses. Suggested curricula and other pertinent information should be submitted to headquarters.
